Attached is the twentieth "daily" fax which we have received from the U.S. Spent Fuel Team in the DPRK. If further distribution is required within your organization, please make such distribution. If a change is required for this fax is desired, please fax me the change (202-586-2323).

Tom: Today's fax indicates a desire on the part of the Team to have more information regarding the boiler building requirements (due to DPRK by the end of the month to meet the boiler agreement). Ken called this morning and reiterated this point. He would at least like the rough details on building size ~~and that construction can start. If day tank will be going in the building.~~ (Chip mentioned this at one time). Be sure to include space for it as well as the boiler skid, heat exchanger, circulating pump, any blowdown or drain valves, and supply storage. Since some kind of vent stack for the exhaust will also be needed. I think a ceiling or wall hole size will also be needed.
